Child care assistance ky

Given all the recent changes in the management of the childcare program (CCAP), it is hard to know where to turn. Although 4-C does not manage CCAP, we can help you find the information you need. The Child Care Assistance Program (CCAP) provides financial support to eligible families in the Commonwealth. The family must prove eligibility through the Community Services Department (DCBS) and payments are made directly to the childcare provider. Eligibility for CCAP services is determined by an employee of the Community Based Services (DCBS) department, as well as SNAP, KTAP, and other government services. Customers (parents or guardians) can apply for benefits, report changes, and receive assistance in their CCAP case by calling 855-306-8959 or visiting benefind.ky.gov. Changes can also be reported to [\[email protected\]](#). Read all DCBS communications about your CCAP case or other benefits that you receive and follow up with your DCBS representative. Changes to your SNAP, K-TAP, or other benefit cases can cause your CCAP case. All CCAP certificates must be signed by the client and provider and then faxed to DCC at 502-564-3464. Clients must report all changes and address certificate issues to their DCBS worker. Providers are not allowed access to your data. Know the name and address of your childcare provider when you apply for CCAP services or change provider. This will help your DCBS worker when it's time to issue a certificate. After approval for the Child Care Assistance Program (CCAP), families can still be responsible for part of the payment to the childcare provider if the family has a co-payment or overpayment. Depending on the size of the family and income, the CCAP allocates a co-payment. This is a daily amount deducted from the reimbursement of the provider that the family pays to the childcare provider. An overrun is an additional amount for which the family can be responsible if the childcare provider charges more than the CCAP pays. The family also pays this amount to the childcare provider. The Childcare Unit (DCC) manages the provider payment part of the childcare programme (CCAP). You can contact DCC at 844-209-2657. Providers should call the Child Care Department at 844-209-2657 if you have not been compensated for care, or for other issues, including checking whether a child has an active enrollment. When you call, make sure you have information at hand, including: parents' name, children's name, service date, the reason for the (e.B. cancellation has been received late; signed certificate has been sent for this child; CPS staff said the child has received permission; etc.) and all documents that can support any case. The Childcare Programme (CCAP) is managed by the Cabinet for Health and Family Services. Below are numbers and websites that you can visit for more information. What is CCAP? Provider: Provider: or customers: 1-855-306-8959 or To find you in the Community Based Service (DCBS) office, click here. Case changes are also reported to CHFS. DCBSDCCTechnicalAssistance@ky.gov or the number above. The Child Care Assistance Program (CCAP) is a government grant aimed at providing high-quality childcare to working parents. The Department for Community Based Services (DCBS), Department of Regulated ChildCare (DRCC), is responsible for program integrity and requires compliance with all day care providers. If your center has received a notification of alleged intentional program violations, you should seek experienced legal assistance immediately. Our lawyers at Strause Law Group act immediately when it comes to the livelihood of our clients. We are qualified to assist you during the legal and regulatory process. Our lawyers work hard to prevent our clients from receiving sanctions and remaining ACAP provider. What happens when you are accused of non-compliance If the DRCC suspects a childcare provider of a deliberate program violation (IPV), it essentially believes that the daycare has committed fraud and the resulting penalties for it can be devastating. If the DRCC proves through its agent 3-Cs that the provider is responsible for an IPV, the day care will not only be obliged to repay improper payments, but it could ultimately expect a disqualification from the program and possibly revoke its license. Fortunately, the childcare provider is entitled to an administrative hearing under KRS 13B to challenge the DRCC's claims. Our lawyers have successfully represented child care centres entrusted with an IPV and threatened to disqualify them. Our team has reversed the DRCC's actions both in the administrative hearing phase and in court, ensuring that our client continued to participate in CCAP without any negative action on the license for a childcare centre. What is the Children's and Adult Care Food Program (CACFP)? The Child and Adult Care Food Program (CACFP) is a federal program run by the Department of Education (DOE) that helps organizations like daycare centers pay for nutritious meals they serve to children. If a childcare provider receives a letter from the DOE, which is a notification of a serious deficiency, the provider should immediately contact an experienced lawyer. This government assistance program requires compliance. Failure to comply may result in disqualification from the programme, the repayment of due to deficiencies and the placement of the Facility and the persons responsible in the National Disqualified List. In addition to these penalties, the Cabinet has the power to revoke the provider's childcare licence for disqualification. Call our lawyers for assistance As at CCAP, day care facilities are entitled to an administrative hearing the serious notification of defects by the DOE. Our lawyers have experience dealing with compliance issues with government assistance programs such as CACFP and can stand up for you during this difficult time. Deborah Yetter | Courier Journal The state is increasing what it pays for childcare for low-income parents who are working or in school. In addition, eligibility for the aid will be extended. Parents who work full-time or attend school and earn less than 165 percent of the federal poverty line, about 34,300 a year for a family of three, are eligible. The state encourages people to apply online or by phone through Benefind, the state's benefits system. The website is benefind.ky.gov and the toll-free number is 855-306-8959. People can also get information by visiting their local Department of Community Based Services office. In Louisville, that's in the L & N Building at 908 West Broadway.
